Silver Jubilee Greetings to RGUHS Employees Association®

Respected Members of the RGUHS Employees Association®,

It gives me immense pleasure to extend my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences Employees Association® on the remarkable occasion of its Silver Jubilee - 25 years of dedicated service, unity and progress.

Over these 25 years, the Association and its employees have played a vital role in supporting the functioning and growth of RGUHS. With a limited workforce, you have been striving continuously to provide services to more than 1,500 institutions, over 25,000 faculty members, and several lakhs of present students and alumni associated with the University. This responsibility is truly commendable.

I have often heard employees say, "Students pay, teachers teach, and that is how we all are able to feed our families." These simple words reflect the deeper understanding and human values within the University workforce. They remind us that respecting the dedication, struggles and contribution of teachers is not merely a responsibility—it is a shared commitment.

On this significant milestone, I sincerely appreciate the Association for its service, commitment, teamwork and continued efforts towards the welfare of employees and the effective functioning of the University.

At the same time, I earnestly request the Association to give due attention to the welfare and security of outsourced and other non-permanent employees who are also an integral part of the University's day-to-day functioning. Despite receiving comparatively modest remuneration and having limited job security, many of them work sincerely and efficiently and contribute significantly to the University's services. Their dedication deserves recognition, dignity, fair treatment and appropriate efforts towards greater employment and social security.

As RGUHS moves towards a more technology-driven and quality-oriented future, I sincerely hope that the Association and every employee will continue their dedicated efforts with the same spirit, while constantly updating themselves to meet emerging needs.

I also look forward to seeing faster, more responsive and efficient services across all departments, ultimately contributing to the betterment of faculty, students and institutions across all disciplines. Stronger and more cordial coordination within each department, between different departments, and between the University and its affiliated institutions can pave the way for seamless, timely and virtually zero-error delivery of services.

Together, let us strive to make RGUHS more efficient, transparent, stakeholder-friendly and progressive, ensuring that every institution and every stakeholder receives timely and quality service.

Once again, my heartfelt congratulations to the entire RGUHS Employees Association® on completing 25 glorious years.

Wishing the Association many more years of Unity, Service, Justice and Progressive Development.

With warm wishes and congratulations,

ಡಾ.ಕಿರಣ್ ಕುಮಾರ್. ಕೆ ಬಿ.ಎಂ.ಎಸ್, ಎಂ.ಡಿ
